Casa de los Azulejos

Write a review

Av Francisco I. Madero 4, Centro Histórico de la Cdad. de México, Centro, Cuauhtémoc, 06500 Ciudad de México, CDMX, Mexico

4.5 51,085 reviews

World Traveler
2 reviews · 1 photo

★☆☆☆☆ 4 months ago

Brunch | $700–800

I used to enjoy coming to this restaurant for its history and reputation, but after my most recent visit I will never return.

The food and drinks were good, but the experience with the service was TERRIBLE. The waitress took forever to take our order, bring the food, and then made us wait 40 minutes just to get the check. That alone was frustrating, but what happened next turned this into one of the worst dining experiences of my life.

When I reached for my purse to grab my card to pay, my purse was gone. The only people who ever came near our table were the waitresses, as we were seated upstairs by the kitchen. Suddenly, when I mentioned my purse was missing, the staff (who had been so slow all evening) became instantly available. The manager quickly appeared, offering to check the cameras, but before I could even process what was happening I started getting fraud alerts from my bank — attempts to charge over $1,300 USD at Oxxo and 7-Eleven. That's when I realized I was being robbed.

The staff crowded around us, distracting us. They pressured my partner (who doesn't speak Spanish) to pay the check, while telling me separately that they were "checking the cameras." It all felt orchestrated to keep us occupied while my cards were being used.

Looking back, it's extremely suspicious. I have a strong feeling the waitresses are working with people outside at convenience stores to immediately run stolen cards. One of the waitresses — an older woman with clear glasses — was serving us at the time.

Warning to anyone visiting this restaurant: be VERY careful. Keep your purse and phone on your body at all times. Do not trust that this "established" place is safe — clearly it is not. There are many better, safer

Casa de los Azulejos

Write a review

Av Francisco I. Madero 4, Centro Histórico de la Cdad. de México, Centro, Cuauhtémoc, 06500 Ciudad de México, CDMX, Mexico

4.5 51,085 reviews

World Traveler
2 reviews · 1 photo

★☆☆☆☆ 4 months ago

Brunch | $700–800

I used to enjoy coming to this restaurant for its history and reputation, but after my most recent visit I will never return.

The food and drinks were good, but the experience with the service was TERRIBLE. The waitress took forever to take our order, bring the food, and then made us wait 40 minutes just to get the check. That alone was frustrating, but what happened next turned this into one of the worst dining experiences of my life.

When I reached for my purse to grab my card to pay, my purse was gone. The only people who ever came near our table were the waitresses, as we were seated upstairs by the kitchen. Suddenly, when I mentioned my purse was missing, the staff (who had been so slow all evening) became instantly available. The manager quickly appeared, offering to check the cameras, but before I could even process what was happening I started getting fraud alerts from my bank — attempts to charge over $1,300 USD at Oxxo and 7-Eleven. That's when I realized I was being robbed.

The staff crowded around us, distracting us. They pressured my partner (who doesn't speak Spanish) to pay the check, while telling me separately that they were "checking the cameras." It all felt orchestrated to keep us occupied while my cards were being used.

Looking back, it's extremely suspicious. I have a strong feeling the waitresses are working with people outside at convenience stores to immediately run stolen cards. One of the waitresses — an older woman with clear glasses — was serving us at the time.

Warning to anyone visiting this restaurant: be VERY careful. Keep your purse and phone on your body at all times. Do not trust that this "established" place is safe — clearly it is not. There are many better, safer

Casa de los Azulejos

Write a review

Av Francisco I. Madero 4, Centro Histórico de la Cdad. de México, Centro, Cuauhtémoc, 06500 Ciudad de México, CDMX, Mexico

4.5 51,085 reviews

World Traveler
2 reviews · 1 photo

★☆☆☆☆ 4 months ago

Brunch | $700–800

I used to enjoy coming to this restaurant for its history and reputation, but after my most recent visit I will never return.

The food and drinks were good, but the experience with the service was TERRIBLE. The waitress took forever to take our order, bring the food, and then made us wait 40 minutes just to get the check. That alone was frustrating, but what happened next turned this into one of the worst dining experiences of my life.

When I reached for my purse to grab my card to pay, my purse was gone. The only people who ever came near our table were the waitresses, as we were seated upstairs by the kitchen. Suddenly, when I mentioned my purse was missing, the staff (who had been so slow all evening) became instantly available. The manager quickly appeared, offering to check the cameras, but before I could even process what was happening I started getting fraud alerts from my bank — attempts to charge over $1,300 USD at Oxxo and 7-Eleven. That's when I realized I was being robbed.

The staff crowded around us, distracting us. They pressured my partner (who doesn't speak Spanish) to pay the check, while telling me separately that they were "checking the cameras." It all felt orchestrated to keep us occupied while my cards were being used.

Looking back, it's extremely suspicious. I have a strong feeling the waitresses are working with people outside at convenience stores to immediately run stolen cards. One of the waitresses — an older woman with clear glasses — was serving us at the time.

Warning to anyone visiting this restaurant: be VERY careful. Keep your purse and phone on your body at all times. Do not trust that this "established" place is safe — clearly it is not. There are many better, safer

Casa de los Azulejos

Write a review

Av Francisco I. Madero 4, Centro Histórico de la Cdad. de México, Centro, Cuauhtémoc, 06500 Ciudad de México, CDMX, Mexico

4.5 51,085 reviews

World Traveler
2 reviews · 1 photo

★☆☆☆☆ 4 months ago

Brunch | $700–800

I used to enjoy coming to this restaurant for its history and reputation, but after my most recent visit I will never return.

The food and drinks were good, but the experience with the service was TERRIBLE. The waitress took forever to take our order, bring the food, and then made us wait 40 minutes just to get the check. That alone was frustrating, but what happened next turned this into one of the worst dining experiences of my life.

When I reached for my purse to grab my card to pay, my purse was gone. The only people who ever came near our table were the waitresses, as we were seated upstairs by the kitchen. Suddenly, when I mentioned my purse was missing, the staff (who had been so slow all evening) became instantly available. The manager quickly appeared, offering to check the cameras, but before I could even process what was happening I started getting fraud alerts from my bank — attempts to charge over $1,300 USD at Oxxo and 7-Eleven. That's when I realized I was being robbed.

The staff crowded around us, distracting us. They pressured my partner (who doesn't speak Spanish) to pay the check, while telling me separately that they were "checking the cameras." It all felt orchestrated to keep us occupied while my cards were being used.

Looking back, it's extremely suspicious. I have a strong feeling the waitresses are working with people outside at convenience stores to immediately run stolen cards. One of the waitresses — an older woman with clear glasses — was serving us at the time.

Warning to anyone visiting this restaurant: be VERY careful. Keep your purse and phone on your body at all times. Do not trust that this "established" place is safe — clearly it is not. There are many better, safer